

International Cooperative Effort to Aid Salukis

STOLA recently received a desperate plea for help from the Middle East to help three Salukis in need. The Animal Friends League of Kuwait and The Animal Shelter of Bahrain contacted us to help with placement of three Salukis in desperate need of homes. The situation in the Middle East has become dire due to social changes and these Salukis are now unable to find suitable homes. The Bahraini shelter will take care of their neuter/spay surgeries and transportation. In the spirit of international cooperation begun with the tremendous foreign support STOLA received during the Elektra Rescue, we will be working with these shelters to find homes for the Salukis once the shelter transports them to the U.S. No STOLA funds are being used. We feel this is one way we can repay the debt we owe for the incredible international support we received for the Elektra Rescue, and it is fitting to help Salukis from their countries of origin
